Airline Tickets/Electronic Ticket Handling

By now, you should have received your confirmed flight itinerary. If you have not, please contact Shantel Snyder directly either via email (ssnyder@insysrx.com) or phone [REDACTED]

With electronic ticketing, your passenger receipt serves as confirmation of your airline reservation. You will be given your boarding pass when you present your passport and passenger receipt at the check-in counter.

Airport Check-in

Check in at your departure airport approximately 2 hours prior to departure time. Airlines may reassign your seat if you have not checked in at least 1 hour prior to departure. Federal Aviation Administration regulations require all passengers to provide a government-issued photo ID when checking in for a departure flight. A passport is the most convenient and acceptable form of identification. The name and photo on the ID must match the ticket and traveler.
