Dear :

INSYS Therapeutics is seeking a medical communications partner to contribute to the educational opportunities of SUBSYS® (fentanyl sublingual spray) CII.

INSYS Therapeutics is seeking a partner to contribute to and/or provide the following:

Scope of Agency relationship

1. Educational Content Development

Develop of presentation slides to healthcare professionals specializing in the management of pain in cancer patients. For purposes of this strategy, the target audiences are oncologist and mid-level practitioners in pain management and/or oncology. Topics, identified by advisory boards in these areas as well as pain specialists, include but not limited to:

- Pain pathophysiology
- Understanding breakthrough cancer pain
- Risk stratification
- Classification of opioids
- CYP 450 drug metabolism and interaction

Comment [DH1]: Is this really a full module or a slide within?

2. Creative Execution

Create and produce a compelling promotional slide module library that is deployed in a highly impactful way. This creative will:

- Bring the content to life
- Effectively and efficiently build the INSYS brand
- Fulfill the ethical and legal requirements of the FDA and DDMAC

- Work synergistically with existing promotional presentation to create awareness

3. Tactical Execution

Agency will create modules to supplement the SUBSYS promotional presentation. Each module will consist of no more than 10 slides and will include all appropriate references. Each module will be presented by trained speakers prior to SUBSYS promotional presentation.

Comment [DH2]: How many modules do you think are needed to cover the aforementioned topics?

4. Proposal Mandatories

Proposals should include:

- Agency's established process including but not limited to outline development, content development, creation of all visual components, editorial and medical review, and client review and approvals
- Complete editorial support
- Final review assumptions as follows:
 - Marketing and medical review – Round 1(Allow 1 week)
 - Regulatory review – Round 2

Assume regulatory review submissions will take place on Wednesdays at 10:00 AM. Items to be reviewed must be scheduled 7 business days in advance and submitted on Friday prior to review date.

- Detailed Timeline
- Detailed budget and payment schedule based on the following milestones
 - Outline development and submission
 - Marketing and medical review submission
 - Delivery of final product

Timeline
